INTRODUCTION

This is an Astro-Analysis based on the exact time, date, and place of birth calculated on the details supplied.

It is not intended to predict a budding mega-star or a future world leader - the objective is to provide some insights into the psyche of Barack to give everyone concerned a better chance of understanding, and hopefully helping this special child through the difficult growing times that they will face.

The astrological Chart is a little like a jigsaw puzzle without the benefit of a picture to follow. Some pieces are easy to recognize and they fit together beautifully. Another batch might fit well - but seem unrelated to the first "batch". Several straggly bits probably seem to belong to another world altogether, but that is the human psyche. The depths are immeasurable with many, many forms, faces, and dimensions.

Any Astrological chart will have seemingly several contradictions - again - just like human nature and our psychological make-up. But these apparent differences are all shades, shapes, and forms of the full picture. These "contradictions" should be seen as a balancing factor, knocking some of the edges off our sharp corners or, sharpening up the "softness" in the areas defined.

It should also be recognized that all of us have our own very personal lessons to learn in this life and these lessons unfold throughout the span of our entire life on earth. The learning experiences will not be systematic - they will be random episodes and experiences. Some interpretations of this Chart will give a glimpse of these very personal lessons that are an obvious part of this little one's character. Others may be so private or subtle that the child "learns" all by itself. And then there will be further lessons that will not have emerged or even seem significant yet.

It is hoped that the brief explanations throughout this analysis will help to explain the meanings and terminology of basic Astrology to give as much understanding as possible.

The two most valuable things that we can give to any child are our unconditional love and our time.

Planets in Signs and Houses

Sun in Leo, Moon in Gemini

The "SUN SIGN" is the one part of the Astrological Chart that most people know. It is the inner core that drives and motivates us. It is our own true light. When we read and discuss our Sun signs we can easily recognize bits that fit, and maybe, question bits that do not seem to apply. The contrast noted is often related to the power of the other luminary - the Moon.

The Moon is our instinctive response. It reflects our earliest conditioning. The Moon governs our emotional responses, - our likes and dislikes - our innate sensitivities. Often the Moon sign is related to the maternal influence, or perhaps, the general home environment.

Both the Sun and the Moon are the two major players. When in a very different sign this does complicate the projected personality. This can be an essential but difficult learning curve that can be confusing for all concerned. Our Sun can try so hard to shine only to feel over-shadowed by a powerful, or competitive, Moon. Some of us will need to learn to accept and understand our emotional conditioning and allow the Sun the right to burst through, combining both strengths in a positive way.

This combination attempts to tie together both of these very significant forces and come up with a sharper, more focused picture.

Some signs are very compatible - others compete.

A combination of Fire and Air suggests a charismatic individual who will be a little like an electrical storm - spectacular, awesome and full of surprises. Barack will be full of confidence, the communication skills lively and clever, and capable of being highly persuasive. This is a real live-wire, constantly charged. However, life can be a little like a hot-air balloon ride, too - carried away at the mercy of the elements with little in the way of perspective or boundaries. These kids can be bombastic and insensitive to others. The nature is restless and dogmatic. Accepting commitment can be difficult; finishing off the bright ideas that flood the mind can be a struggle; practicality can be a difficult lesson to learn. Barack can become too much of an opportunist and, like the rolling stone, gather up a whole lot of experiences throughout life, but little in the way of tangible rewards.

AstroDeluxe Child Report for Barack Obama

Barack has the Sun in the fiery sign of Leo the Lion and the Moon in the airy sign of Gemini. This can be the most entertaining combination. The right words will simply tumble out. The personality will be bright and breezy. There will always be a big smile, and warm welcome, and a fine sense of humor. Communication skills are animated and clever.

Barack will have no trouble at all making friends. This kid will be able to find something in common with anyone. Most people will warm to this little one immediately because this will be an open book. The mind will be clever and imaginative and the ability to express ideas will be colorful. In many ways Barack will be a bit of an intellectual butterfly - able to glean a little about lots - but lacking the patience to get into much depth. Being blessed with such a great imagination and quick wit, Barack will be able to "bluff" very well too. It will be quite natural for others to "think" Barack knows everything - whereas Barack just finds answers and uses decoys easily, and without conscience. Nothing deceptive is intended - this child will be rather honest - but you will also see glimpses of a great storyteller. In many ways Barack simply loves to impress.

A major part of the nature with this combination is plain old social stuff. This kid will love company, will love being totally involved, and will actually dislike being alone. The glib tongue and humorous quips will be entertaining and a whole lot of fun. But these communication skills have a part to play in how Barack copes with difficult times too. When under pressure, or in a bit of a spot, there is a need to discuss it all. There is a need to work out what went wrong, and have the right of reply. The immediate reaction to an altercation will be to meet it with caustic and sarcastic retorts. Barack needs to learn to get past this and the only way to achieve this is through effective and constructive dialog.

Barack combines the Moon in Gemini with an Aquarius Ascendant, suggesting that a natural curiosity will be apparent very early. Just watch this child struggle for that first taste of independence. As soon as mobility kicks in, this kid will be up and off to see the world. It will take very high walls to keep Barack confined. All forms of expression with this combination will be exceptional. A quick wit and a great sense of humor will be apparent.

Both of these zodiac signs have a distinctly rebellious streak. This will be particularly noticeable when Barack is under pressure. When Barack is chastised, or perhaps, gets worn out, the mood will turn verbally aggressive. These kids can lose the plot completely. They "fight back", using their best weapon - their vocal skills. Barack can be sarcastic and stinging, but this is reactionary. Like everything else, anger and frustration will tend to be short-lived.

This amiable child will have a host of friends and be very sought after company. Mixing will be important. Barack will like to be with others to exchange ideas, talk, and try new things. Variety and freedom are the ultimate factors that drive this personality.

AstroIDeluxe Child Report for Barack Obama

The Gemini Moonchild could have a Mom who is young at heart, easy-going and a lot of fun. The home environment is often busy and ever-changing - with lots of friends and lots of interests. Mother could well be young at heart and is likely always to be that way. Or, perhaps an older sibling or a relative could be the most influential maternal role model. The emphasis with the Gemini Moon would be on interaction rather than strict routine. This is often the sort of house where all the kids in the neighborhood like to congregate, so Barack could learn early that the best way of being noticed is to either make a whole lot of noise or simply, "go missing". Certainly, verbal expression would be encouraged, but there could be serious competition involved in actually getting heard.

Sun in Leo, Sun in the Sixth House

The 6th House traditionally relates to matters of work and health, but on a personal level, which the Sun Sign relates to, this applies more to a child who is aware of boundaries and routine in a quest to establish a sense of self-worth. This child will be guided by a need to strive towards a sense of identity and a sense of purpose.

Barack has the Sun in Leo in the Sixth House. This careful little planner has a strong set of ideals and principles. It is quite likely that these little ones operate very well on their own because they enjoy results, especially theirs. These kids do not particularly push to be the center of attention but they stand out in a crowd anyway. They are quite happy being out of step with the common herd on occasions. In fact, Barack will quite like to come from a different angle. But there will be time and effort put into always making sure of the facts. These children will not make an issue just to hear their own voices, but they will always offer an opinion whether asked for it or not. There is a pride on being able to research quite a bit deeper than most of their peers. They deal only in "facts". They will never take anything on face value. These kids will question and go find their own answers - just to prove everyone else wrong. Barack wants to be "right" and this can become a game and a lifelong habit. But whatever these kids do, they want to do it very well. They naturally test the limits.

These kids need to be less self-critical. They tend to actually compete against themselves by constantly trying to improve and be "the best". Encourage this little one to have some fun, where there are no winners and losers. The natural creativity and clever imagination can be a valuable aid in bringing out the confidence and sense of self-worth. Barack will be quite creative and perhaps athletic - both of which should be encouraged. The Sun in the 6th House suggests that nothing truly comes easily. Barack could be the black sheep of the family - perhaps the one who feels out of step. And no matter what effort is put in it is never quite enough. This is tough on a child with the Sun in Leo who thrives on being the star of the show. Often the younger years can be painful. These kids yearn to be recognized and loved, but they tend to feel a little neglected and short-changed. For this reason, leaving the family nest can be the making of them - they need to move outside of the original home in order to find confidence. The standards that are set are high. There is a willingness to work hard, but again, Barack can still be crushed by a sense of failure. Barack tries so hard to please but simply needs to be acknowledged and encouraged. Positive parenting will produce a positive child.

The general health could be cause for minor concern. Barack could suffer allergies, hay fever, or sinus problems, so will need to be taught to take care of seasonal maladies. This imaginative kid can get too involved in general well-being and make health a mission in life that is probably not necessary. Being adventurous, minor mishaps can occur.

Moon in Gemini, Moon in the Fourth House

The Moon in Gemini in the 4th House is a child who places much importance on the home and the family. To function well, Barack will need a peaceful haven that is "home". This provides a real security blanket. When tiny, this child will probably prefer to have their friends "in" to play, as they love to show off "their house". Here they can be in charge and call the shots. These kids like to be in control of their environment and whilst "at home" this almost becomes non-negotiable. The home is also the castle of the Gemini Moon and that is how Barack will always view the official residence - the castle. Besides, these home-loving kids cannot possibly come home to any surprising changes if they stay put. The greatest fear is that one day they will turn around and all the familiar things will have gone.

Having a very "best" friend will be vital for Barack. These kids are self-conscious and are quite afraid of big groups and unfamiliar territory. They badly want to be able to feel good anywhere with anyone, and they know they can mix well, so they resent this lack of confidence. These kids will even rehearse in private on how they are going to tackle the situation "next time". This insecurity is enormous as far as this expressive kid is concerned, and so the fear brings on a panic attack and a very awkward mood. This needs careful handling because these kids truly do go to pieces. This reaction is not for show or attention, it is out of frustration and confusion. It is a grave fear, which will bring out a petulant and dramatic mood.

When these little people feel good within, they feel strong. They will be there for anyone that needs a bit of support or comfort, being extremely sensitive to other people's feelings. Barack will know when help is needed. However, when things are not going so well, this child feels vulnerable. Barack will lose confidence and cut off everyone completely. If these kids do not find confidence within the family and home environment, they can spend the rest of their lives looking for Utopia. Barack will have a very definite need for stable and dependable personal roots.

AstroDeluxe Child Report for Barack Obama

The Mother is the most important person and Barack will need a truly solid emotional foundation here. The whole of the early family life will remain a blueprint for the future. It is highly likely that Barack will never go too far away from the original neighborhood that was an essential part of growing up. If this does happen, those memories will remain very clear - always remembering the past even when, at times, some things are better forgotten. In fact, these kids will have a strong interest in history generally, and maybe, genealogy. Family photographs will be kept as a source of pride, being seen as indestructible proof of heritage and lineage. As life unfolds, Barack will have all the family "stories" on hand to recount at celebrations and communal gatherings. This will be your official future toastmaster.

A strong intuition will develop with age, which will form a powerful part of the basic personality. These kids will instinctively "know" things and they should learn to trust this. It can be a very valuable tool.

Mercury in Leo, Mercury in the Sixth House

These children with Mercury in Leo in the 6th House will enjoy learning and creating new things. They will probably have lots of hobbies and will take great pride in anything that they do. Barack will be so careful that it can be tempting to try and hurry up the procedure. The mind moves quickly, the ideas come thick and fast, but these youngsters know what they want to achieve. They have an eye for detail and want to get the very best results. Allow them all the time that is needed to put their great plans into action.

These kids can do quite well in school because of this attention to fact and detail. This includes their verbal expression. All ideas will be given a whole lot of thought, and Barack will seldom say anything that will give any cause for regret. All the options will have been weighed up, the homework will have been done, and the fine print will have been read. These kids do not like mistakes. They take life seriously, but most of all, they take themselves seriously. Sometimes the fear of being wrong can stunt their learning and willingness to project ideas. Try to promote more confidence by encouraging opinions, interaction, debate, and accepting that we can all be a little bit wrong sometimes. Mercury in Leo is naturally outspoken, so correcting this should not be too difficult.

The analytical mind quickly figures out the answers. However, Barack can be too critical and expect too much. This child should learn early that their dedication is great, but no one and nothing is ever truly perfect. These kids need to learn to get pleasure out of the doing as well as the end result.

Barack will always need to exercise the mind and stretch the learning. These children will have the tenacity required to achieve excellent results in any project attempted.

Sometimes this youngster can be too precise, and can easily become too much of a worrier. There may be too much concern with health or diet, or just "being good." Barack should be urged not to get fanatical. The nervous system really can take a hammering with this placement.

Often Mercury in the 6th House develops a very clever sense of humor. These kids observe their own frailties and learn to view a disaster as a comedy of errors. They can seem to laugh off their mistakes, but underneath Barack loathes messing up. This "fun" side of the nature should be nurtured as long as it does not turn into a pessimistic habit and a continual dialog of self-criticism. Electronics could be a source of interest as Barack develops.

Venus in Cancer, Venus in the Fifth House

Barack has Venus in Cancer in the Fifth House, which gives a very appealing and romantic nature, with a general love of life. This House adds an enthusiasm and a confidence that is not always found with Venus in this sign. These children are popular and well liked, because they work hard at getting the best out of every day and every experience. They are competitive, energetic and dramatic. Barack will like activities that indulge the senses. These children like to feel good and they like to perform. Personal choice will always revolve around "fun". There could be artistic ability here, but even if Barack does not have any artistic talent, there will be an appreciation of art and music as hobbies.

This child wants to be the star, and can be reluctant to apply effort if there are no shining rewards. There can be some inertia and lack of interest if there is no personal agenda. This area could need some work. Try encouraging this little one to think of others a bit more, and not be so reluctant to work in as part of the team. Barack must be taught this early. These traits can spoil an otherwise sunny and infectious personality. Image is important to Barack so there will be a willingness to learn to be even "better" than ever. Barack will take all the helpful hints on board. Often athletic ability accompanies Venus in the 5th House. It could be in the area of sport where Barack will learn to share the limelight. It could also further enhance the ego and the vanity if there is a real talent.

Barack will be more than a little attracted to the opposite sex when the hormones kick in. This can be an utterly charming flirt who will prefer the opposite sex as constant company. This child will be quite magnetic and have no trouble attracting their share of admirers, so choice should not be a problem. This is a romantic idealist who falls in love at the drop of a hat but can be sorely disappointed when reality hits home. Consequently when the hues of passion turn into just another day, these types feel robbed. However, this optimist will seldom be "down" for long. The creative imagination will seek a way of rekindling the romantic fire.

AstroIDeluxe Child Report for Barack Obama

In adulthood, this person could well work with children. There is an ability to "get through" to children. Venus in the Fifth House does indicate a Peter Pan of sorts. These types often seem to never get "old". They are also susceptible to a real "mid life crisis" when the time comes. They feel threatened when the joys of youth seem to be slipping away. The playful nature does not fade with time and neither does the optimism.

Mars in Virgo, Mars in the Seventh House

Mars in Virgo in the seventh house is a child who can seem to have many problems with friends. Barack will tend to argue and try to dominate, and being "attracted" to similar type friends, this naturally causes a bit of strife. These youngsters are certainly not loners, but they have to learn to give a little and to not be so bossy. They tend to see their friends as opponents and insist on getting their own way too much. These kids simply have to learn the difference between compromise and independence. They must learn the art of negotiation, and accept that their very nature and attitude needs a check-up on occasion. This energy can be put to equal use in either fighting against or fighting for. There is certainly plenty of energy here.

Often Mars in the 7th House is indicative of a kid that feels "robbed" as a child. These kids can feel lonely and misunderstood, so they step into life with a big chip on their shoulder. The objective in life can seem to be a pay-back scheme that perhaps even the child does not truly understand. Perhaps Barack sets the ideals too high or simply expects too much. But Barack must learn to accept disappointment and learn to take positives from any negatives that life may deal. Inner conflict can be destructive and totally unproductive, especially if it is not resolved or acknowledged.

If this child grows up to believe that they can 1) make progress through their own efforts, 2) realize their objectives, and 3) be reasonably agreeable, they will most certainly succeed. It is important that Barack does learn these lessons though, and take ownership and control of the aggressive part of the nature. If this is not done, establishing and maintaining any sort of relationship will be difficult.

With guidance, Barack will learn and grow into a strong adult, able to stand tall with character and self-confidence. There is great sales or marketing ability here, showing that this energy can be utilized beautifully. The power of persuasion and the natural instinct to challenge and question can be indispensable tools. When exposed as a positive, the force that drives Barack will be invaluable.

Jupiter in Aquarius, Jupiter in the Twelfth House

AstroDeluxe Child Report for Barack Obama

Jupiter in Aquarius in the Twelfth House makes Barack a child that even while young will be very kind and generous toward less fortunate people. This can be a mystical child who has natural healing abilities that filter through in a subliminal way. These kids feel their role is to give.

Barack will seem to be able to ride with the rough times, always finding the silver lining in the darkest cloud. Barack will not wallow in the miseries of "poor me" for very long. These kids just know that no one ever said that life was going to be easy and they simply cope. They can turn a negative into a positive learning experience and actually appreciate the painful episodes. They naturally count their blessings more readily than they lick their wounds. Real bad times should be few, but there can be a tinge of sadness or feelings of isolation that Barack tucks away out of view. The invisible protectors or guides at this child's disposal soften the suffering somehow. But, Barack could find it difficult to ask for help or even accept help in times of need - perhaps drawing on divine intervention in favor of exposing any problems that might arise. The faith is strong but so is the will to be free, private and independent.

These kindly people are blessed with a powerful vision and they do have the ability to make their dreams come true. Barack will have a good sense of perspective and plenty of patience. This deep and reflective kid will dream and plot and fantasize in a private but positive way. When alone, comfort will be found in the peace and the quiet of their own inner world - a world that should sustain Barack through any sort of major difficulty. Truth in its purest form is easily understood and is often the primary objective.

Ambition can be subtle, or perhaps not an obvious trait; these types often resent what they see as the rat race. But help seems to come to them when they need it, so there can be significant achievements. While far from being materialistic, Barack can be quite extravagant. This can be a cause of some difficulty in life. Jupiter in the 12th House can suggest over-indulgence and escapism, but the guardian angels will always be waiting in the wings ready to guard and protect if called on. With just a bit of training to 1) offset the lack of material sense, 2) to respect the dangers of permissiveness, and 3) to learn to be a little more practical, there should not be much of a problem.

Saturn in Capricorn, Saturn in the Twelfth House

Barack has the planet Saturn in Capricorn in the Twelfth House. This can be a lonely and scary house for Saturn to be in until it is understood. It can certainly be difficult in the young adult years. These kids are so easily discouraged - they will beat themselves up for no particular reason. There is a natural sense of inferiority, with the feeling that they do not measure up - and no one listens. They often feel that they are not particularly well-liked, and in many ways, they feel "unlovable". No matter how hard friends or family try to convince them that they are great, these kids just cannot accept it or believe it. Barack can reject all offers of help no matter how sincere and loving. With this placement there can be a distinct fear of intimacy. Often this attitude can be the result of upheavals or instability that can be traced back to very early experiences. There could have been an isolated and minor episode which, however, was enough to break the trust of this small child. In fact the inherent guilt and lack of confidence can be post-natal - perhaps Mother had a difficult pregnancy or delivery. Perhaps the gestation period was fraught with anxiety that Barack took on board from the sanctity of the womb. The subconscious carefully stores all the experiences and sensations, which can surface at anytime at all. However, the subconscious is often short on logic.

Barack will need to be guided carefully and lovingly through the basis of this inadequacy. It usually lies within and so has to be extracted out into the open. With maturity, these problems will lessen and this child will become more secure and self-confident. But somewhere along the line, the door to the closet will have to be opened to let the ghosts fly free - and then watch all fears fly away. But often these poor kids will need a bit of a helping hand to find the courage to open that door.

Sometimes this placement can indicate a chronic illness of some kind that has to be lived with, which will never suggest an easy life. But Saturn in the 12th House more often indicates an inner battle that needs to be fought in some way, shape, or form.

Turning Saturn into a positive can reap great rewards. Barack, with inner strength accepted, will have the ability to turn all the dreams that nourish the soul into a realization. The imaginative and sensitive gifts can be remarkable, and with the solid help of Saturn, these gifts can materialize into a real rock-solid worth. Barack has the gifts to firm-up illusions and to perceive that which many miss.

As life evolves, there will be times when the effects of Saturn will be felt. Barack can feel abandoned and totally misunderstood. The confidence and the energy will drop. The nerves get shaky and life can just seem too heavy and too negative. However, by accepting that the most valuable lessons are often the hardest, and that those lessons are what the heavenly teacher has in mind, Barack will emerge wiser and stronger.

FINALE

As adults, we look back on our youth and say, "if only I knew then what I know now". How many of us also, as we get older, "discover" a talent that has never been recognized and say "if only". If this Chart report simply indicates a talent that can be nurtured early in life, as opposed to laying dormant for too long a time, or forever, then the author's objective has been reached.
