

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Adolf Hitler

Saturday, April 20, 1889 6:30:00 PM

Politician; Dictator

Source: BC/AA

Braunau am Inn, Austria

Time Zone: -00:52:08 (LT)

Longitude: 013° E 02'

Latitude: 48° N 15'

Eva Braun

Tuesday, February 06, 1912 12:30:00 AM

Celebrity spouse

Source: Taeger q. BC/AA

Munich, Germany

Time Zone: -01:00 (CET)

Longitude: 011° E 34'

Latitude: 48° N 08'

Introduction

Each of us has a personal birth chart that records where the planets were at the time when we were born. As long as we are lone individuals, we are stuck with that chart. The placements and aspects of our natal birth chart will define our potential as individuals for the rest of our lives. Furthermore, the possible aspects and possible alignments of the planets in our birth chart are limited by where the planets actually were around the time when we were born. It is not possible to have Jupiter conjunct Saturn in our birth charts when Jupiter and Saturn were on opposite sides of the solar system.

All of those limitations disappear when it comes to the composite chart between two people. Through the magic of two people's charts coming together and combining, almost any combination, almost any destiny, is possible. By unifying with another person, the two of you can have a greater capacity to channel the planetary energies in a desired direction than was possible for either one of you alone. The two of you do have to submerge your individual egos to the extent necessary to form a partnership, but as long as the two of you remain linked as partners in that team, the planetary energies of its composite chart are at the disposal of both of you.

We may think that we are in charge when it comes to selecting another person to be our mate, but I am not so sure that is always the case. Some composite charts have so many synchronicities, so many close alignments of multiple planets, that they appear to be alchemical experiments orchestrated by Fate from the Other Side. In particular, I have seen these close linkages in the composite charts of certain couples whose lives have received intense media exposure, as if the lives of these couples were meant to be teaching tools.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

The composite chart of Prince Charles and Princess Diana is a perfect example of a composite chart that featured multiple exact planet linkages. Two planets are at 5 degrees, two planets are at 16 degrees, two planets are at 17 degrees, almost conjunct the Midheaven at 18 degrees, four planets are at 26 degrees and the remaining planet is at 27 degrees. These linkages channeled the couple's behavior during their short marriage to an extreme degree. The composite charts of the former President of Argentina, Juan Perón, with his two successive wives, Evita and Isabel, show such striking similarities that the astrologer must conclude that Juan Perón was truly a Man of Destiny.

I have also seen in composite charts between members of the same family some very interesting chart patterns that repeat or alternate, indicating that these souls were brought together in order to work on similar life lessons.

You may or may not have amazingly synchronized linkages with your partner, but you can be sure that you picked each other because subconsciously you detected that the interaction between the two of you had an interesting quality to it. You felt like what was created when the two of you came together was something larger than yourself, was something that provided room for you to grow, and finally was a direction in which you wanted to grow.

The interpretations that follow of the planetary placements and aspects in the composite chart for you and your partner will describe the nature of the relationship environment in which you and your partner have your being. It should not come as a big surprise to you, since you have actually been living the life that it describes, but it should help you to be more conscious about your relationship and it may validate some of your unconscious perceptions. Some placements and aspects are mostly harmonious - you know that you have support in those areas. Other placements and aspects challenge you to work and try harder to get the desired response - these are actually the growth opportunities that attracted you to this relationship. If your relationship ever became 'perfect' you would quickly get bored and would want more challenge. That is just part of human nature. We want to feel needed and we want to keep growing.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Composite Planets in the Houses

Sun in the Fifth House

You are happiest when you are together, and welcome others, inviting them to join your fun. To some, you may seem frivolous, but no one who knows you can deny a genuine affection. In a personal relationship, you happily announce that you are sweethearts.

However, the energy you generate does not depend on or require company. Romance can be an ice cream cone shared in summertime, or a single downy jacket to envelop the two of you on a blustery day.

You spark each other's creative side and delight in its discovery. If there is a practical streak in one of you, you may turn this to your advantage in a business opportunity that displays your collective talents.

You may think a legal marriage might inhibit your fun. Nevertheless, drawn towards that end by an urge to have children, remember that in procreation there can be the joyous experience of a new beginning. Creation often lends a chance to expand your ardent, utopian alliance forever.

Moon in the First House

At times, you seem so psychic with each other that you may not recognize a need for open communication. If you do, you are apt to speak from emotions, which can change in an instant. Being "inside" each other's heads, with accurate second-guessing as a hobby, can be interesting, but it is also disturbing. You may feel you know each other well, but you may know very little about each other.

Stabilizing your relationship long enough to discover basic needs as a couple can be difficult. By the time you stop wobbling back and forth, you will need to talk things over before making a decision. During discussions, try to take an objective, rather than a subjective view. It is important that you discover what you have in common, or if you are too different to share responsibilities of a successful partnership.

Common goals will help. By moving in the same direction, you may find mutual ground on which to express the intense feelings that brought you together.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

You could have a career in which you appeal to or serve the public. The Moon gives you an insight into what and how the common man thinks and feels. You have a connection with the people.

The Moon tends to reflect the energies of planets aspecting it. In the second section of this report, find the strongest aspect to the Moon and then read that planet's house placement interpretation for a guide to what energy the Moon here most channels.

Mercury in the Fifth House

Being a couple doubles your pleasure for fun and life in general. Your passion for arts, sports or theater may prod you to participate in community projects. You will put all your energies into them and will appreciate receiving credit for your efforts. You also enjoy living and re-living events in which you have had an active part. Even in a working partnership, you must enjoy your job or will soon be bored and look elsewhere for an outlet for your creative talents.

Yours is not a frivolous pairing despite the light-hearted attitude you present. You share a deep appreciation of each other, may have a lively physical relationship and should romance lead to marriage, will look forward to having children. Any children that you have should be very smart. That you identify well with children almost guarantees that you will get the most out of your quality times together and they will have the "coolest" parents on the block.

You are bound to be best friends, also, and are so in balance that if one of you organizes a picnic, the other will enthusiastically provide anything from fried chicken to ants, knowing that you both will do your part to make the outing successful.

Venus in the Fifth House

Whether partners in business or on a personal level, you will find the romance in almost any situation. Even if you agree to disagree, you will hesitate to give up your relationship because you are having too much fun. Others are more than willing to join your on-going revel. You may be "Dear Abby" to your friends, who look to you for intimate advice.

You are drawn to the field of entertainment - to anything from sports to theater, and will find diverse interests. Games of any kind attract you and you will try to involve as many people as possible in your interests of the moment. However, some may see you as too frivolous or self-indulgent to be sincere friends because not everyone appreciates the "child" in you.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Whether or not you are married is not really an issue unless you are ready to establish a family. Most see you as "lucky in love," and admire your undeniable joie de vive. You project an energy that encourages them to come closer in order that a bit of your enthusiasm may rub off on them!

The second half of this report will give the meaning of any aspects that exist in the composite chart involving Venus. You must combine this house placement interpretation with those Venus aspect interpretations, as they will modulate the planet's expression in this house.

Mars in the Seventh House

You should realize early on whether the fascination that you feel in your partnership is due to positive or negative feelings. If positive, no force is greater than the genuine admiration you have for each other's accomplishments. Your commitment is unquestioned.

If you just like to quarrel or vent your feelings as individuals, you will quickly find that it is easy to escalate little flare-ups into bonfires. No matter how quickly a tantrum is over, the damage done will impair your relationship.

In a personal pairing, you may substitute sexual energy for real love, which can lead to resentment because of your dependency on a physical outlet for inner frustrations. Try to find satisfaction in being together as equals. You and your partner can develop your negotiating skills. Remind yourselves that in a true partnership there is always an important element of give-and-take. If you have grievances, air them. An honest approach to working out your grievances will keep your relationship healthy.

Giving without expecting a reward and taking in order to advance the success of your combined efforts can double your importance as a team. Unselfishness has its own recompense in overcoming petty attitudes, letting you reap the rich results that your combination is capable of producing together.

Jupiter in the Second House

This placement helps you both make money by developing your personal style and interests. Despite your amazing team potential, be aware that when you are dealing with the money of others, "someone" should keep an eye on the balance sheets. Otherwise, you are liable to go overboard and get into something that you will have trouble getting out of, should your profits begin to slow. You may want to include your immediate family in your plans, but, again, must be careful that your own enthusiasm does not lead those who cannot afford your largess into financial difficulties.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

You are definitely not programmed for a life of solitude. It is not surprising that you choose your best friend to share in your plans for a future together. There is a high physical energy present in your relationship and you will enjoy it with the same enthusiasm you exhibit in business. This placement makes you quite successful in the bedroom. You are as generous with each other as you were when you were unattached. Because you are so in tune, you have the opportunity to grow spiritually and will probably recognize it and take advantage of this extra plus. To you, it is an additional opportunity to enjoy your relationship experience.

Saturn in the Eighth House

This placement is good for having children and leaving a legacy. Being practical is one of the benefits of your partnership, but practicality can also work against you by restricting your ability to invest in projects or even expand your feeling for each other. It is unlikely that you will depend on the finances of others to back your ventures.

You suffer from an inherent belief that you never have enough of anything to enlarge your life, thus you will cautiously move toward fulfillment at a measured pace. Whether yours is a business relationship or a personal pairing, you will be very aware of the checks and balances in your lives.

Structure is all-important to you and fear of making a mistake can keep you from taking the financial risks that everyone faces in making the devices that mold one's life.

Uranus in the Second House

This placement encourages your creativity. You could make money through unusual or futuristic matters related to Uranus, such as aviation, television, radio, advertising, the internet, electronics, programming, or astrology. It is good for both making money and spending money.

One or both of you could be workaholics. This placement is good for having children. There could be sudden events or surprises involving money. It would be good to have money matters spelled out in a prenuptial agreement, but Uranus can be willful and ignore boring things like that.

Neptune in the Eighth House

You find each other charming. You enjoy each other's company because you connect on so many levels. When you engage in physical intercourse, there is a telepathic connection between you. Things click in a special, magical way between you because of that connection. It gives you the assurance that you are meant to be with this person. The relationship can also be fruitful and productive when it comes to money and/or children. But Neptune can be hare-brained at times, so think twice before you do anything weird in connection with money and/or children. This is capable of being a long-lasting relationship.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Pluto in the Eighth House

Your relationship is more likely than most to involve parents and estate issues. There may be disproportionate inequalities between you with respect to power or money. One of you may be accused of riding the other's coattails or using the partner as a steppingstone. The added elements in your life may make it difficult for you just to be alone with each other. If you do not work to share responsibilities equally in your relationship, there is a danger that resentment will grow between you. Don't tie the knot without a prenuptial agreement.

Planets in Aspect

Sun square Jupiter (Strength: 5.72)

Although this is a fairly good aspect for your relationship, it does present some challenging dynamics for you. You feel good being with each other, and there is a strong sense of expansion and good fortune that arises in your relationship. But there is some imbalance here that can cause you to go too far. You will feel this energy as a need, or even as inspiration to try to push yourself to attain higher goals and to live an increasingly better life. On the material level, this impulse can easily cause you to overextend yourself. As you seek to constantly expand and improve your life, you may tend to push too fast, to go too far too soon, perhaps becoming ostentatious and showy in the process as you try to impress others with just how successful you are. The lesson here is that although you feel very prosperous, there are rules to abide by and steps that need to be taken in order to attain the success you seek. With this in mind, it would be beneficial to slow down a little and learn those rules and take the steps necessary to gain the goals that you have chosen. You cannot go for broke all the time.

There is also an inner aspect to your relationship that spurs you towards spiritual growth and encourages you to focus on the larger questions and ideals of religion and philosophy. There will likely be differences in perspective that will cause some friction between you, but if you embrace this it will open your mind to larger perspectives that will increase your potential for growth and evolution.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & EvaMercury conjunct Venus (Strength: 5.40)

You enjoy talking to each other, communicating your feelings and sharing your ideas. It is easy for you to express your affection for each other as friends, or more intimately if you are in a love relationship. You have an intimate connection with each other and you are able to say the right thing at the right time, even if your ideas are very different from your partner's. You know how to express yourself in ways that are pleasing and easily accepted.

You share a verbal harmony in your relationship, and there are likely to be few arguments between you. You believe maintaining harmony is more important than being proven right or even expressing hurt feelings. Indeed, this may be the only problem that you will face with this combination. You may hold back from expressing anything distasteful for fear of upsetting the harmony that you hold so dear. As a result, important issues could be neglected that can eventually strain your partnership. It is better to gather up the courage to talk about these unpleasant subjects so that they can be dealt with and you can get back to sharing your affections and ideas more harmoniously and completely.

The desire for communication is very important for most people in any type of relationship. It is even more important in an intimate relationship. Just remember that any communication between you needs to be honest as well as pleasing. By dealing with the unpleasant topics and difficult issues that arise, you might find that your communication actually improves.

You will also find that there is a strong aesthetic sensibility in your relationship - it gives the two of you a common focus on art and beauty. You appreciate beautiful surroundings; they express the superb connection between the two of you. This combination can also make you successful in business in such fields as photography, design, art and related fields.

Jupiter opposite Neptune (Strength: 4.29)

It could be hard for you to focus on and see this person, but, if you manage to, then there is a good chance that you will have a long and loving relationship. Your relationship promises to be a truly beautiful and inspiring vision. How you achieve that promise could be somewhat nebulous. But you can take some reassurance from knowing that married couples with this aspect have a very low divorce rate. There is a strong possibility that you idealize each other and your relationship out of all proportions. Your beautiful relationship could give you an escape from the drudgery of ordinary life. But there is nothing wrong with that and the combination of these planets will actually inspire plenty of real world creativity.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Relationships and partnerships are formed between very real people with real blemishes and problems. Your optimism, dreams, and fantasies have a valid place in your life, as they inspire you to strive to create the relationship that you visualize with each other. In order to succeed, you will have to be very practical and in touch with reality. Be willing to confront your problems and understand that as you do so you are creating a more solid foundation upon which to build your ideal partnership. Write down your visions so that you can refer back to them or modify them. This helps you to keep your focus and to rework your fantasies into something that is vibrant and real.

Sun sextile Mars (Strength: 4.10)

Yours is a very energetic and productive relationship where your creative will (the Sun) is supported by the easy flow of Martian energy. You will enjoy doing things together and projecting yourselves into new activities. You will tend to feel more energized in the company of each other, and this will help you become more productive as a team. There is a lack of ego conflict between you that encourages you to work together towards the attainment of your goals. This support indicates that your work together will be smooth and easy. You will feel like you accomplish more as a team than either of you could by yourselves. You are more as a couple than you are as mere individuals. You have an excellent connection here that reveals a harmonious interconnectedness that is expressed in any relationship as teamwork.

Physical activity can be important to your relationship as a means of channeling the energy of Mars into constructive and enjoyable avenues of expression. This energy constantly seeks active expression, to look for and overcome challenges. Do not sit around together or the energy of this combination can become explosive and destructive. Sports and other forms of physical exercise can be excellent ways to express this energy. Get out and be active together, but if you get into competitive sports with each other, remember that you are on the same team. If yours is an intimate relationship, there will be a great deal of desire between you. You will not be shy about being physical with each other. Sexual interaction becomes an important avenue of energy exchange and release, adding greatly to the level of satisfaction possible in your relationship. This is a great aspect for stepping out of your individual limitations and striving as a team to accomplish something greater in your lives.

Sun square Neptune (Strength: 4.01)

You inspire each other to create and live in a more ideal world. You may not be very practical, but you certainly do not lack the ability to dream. You could make movie magic together. Your desire for perfection is at odds with the human condition as well as your imperfect but very real relationship. You could see in each other a powerful image of perfection. You will idealize your relationship as the perfect union of soul mates. There is more illusion here than reality and it is likely that there are some basic differences between you that you are not looking at or are glossing over. You see them as cute idiosyncrasies right now and don't recognize the irritation they can produce. You need to be aware that the attainment of an ideal relationship requires hard work, and that is why the two of you are together. Much is required to achieve mutual satisfaction in this relationship, but if you choose to embrace it there is potential for a tremendous amount of growth for both of you.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

The ideal that you see in your partner can easily be illusion. Yet, at the same time, it is a promise of what can be created over the long run. When you see perfection you idealize both your partner and your relationship. Too soon you wake up and see all the blemishes, and experience the resulting irritation of a real relationship. This wake-up call can hit you so hard that you want to run away from anything to do with your partner. You realize that they aren't at all what you thought they were, and this can be devastatingly disillusioning. In your relationship it is possible that one of you might deceive the other for personal gain while the other partner adds to the deception by believing that everything is perfect. There can also be quasi-spiritual elements of martyrdom involved, or perhaps feelings of imprisonment, either from your partner or from yourself within the relationship. You will likely have unrealistic and impractical goals for your relationship that will meet with continual defeat and disillusionment.

The perfection that you see in your partner is not merely illusion. It is the dream of what can be. You have been given the vision of that potential, and you have come together in this lifetime to try and create that ideal between you. Spiritual practices and techniques can be valuable tools to help you access deeper levels of thinking and feeling. Together you can learn to see the ideal that exists within the blemishes and shortcomings of your partner as well as yourself. You can set realistic goals that are easily achieved. You can accept defeats as a chance to learn and grow. In the process you might find within yourself the ability to change defeat into success. A spiritual focus to your relationship softens all of life's challenges and increases your chance to succeed together.

Mercury square Uranus (Strength: 3.93)

This is a dynamic connection in any relationship. You enjoy an exciting and stimulating exchange of new and interesting ideas. But you may not be as interested in finding new truths to live by as you are in rebelling against conventional concepts merely for the sake of overthrowing tradition. Perhaps the two of you have become a revolutionary team by expressing your rebellion against a conventional world. If you should win the war, with nothing left to rebel against, the instability of this aspect could put an end to your team.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

You might also turn your rebellious nature against each other's way of thinking. In that case, you come together in your relationship as combatants, and your rebellion can become more important to you than making your relationship work. You stimulate each other's mental processes, but the challenge of pushing each other to see things in new ways causes you to hit a wall. You rebel against your partner's ideas as an automatic response. You are more interested in proving that your own ideas are correct, and your own mind is superior. In order to help your relationship, stay open to learning new concepts that can reveal in your mind the genius that you seek.

This combination gives you the feeling that intellectually you are quite inventive, but this is true as a couple rather than with you individually. Focus your energy on understanding yourself. Let go of your combativeness and feelings of mental superiority and listen to each other. Once you learn to look at what your partner is saying, you may find that by combining ideas you come upon some unique new ways of living and experiencing your life.

Saturn conjunct Neptune (Strength: 3.70)

You may find that your relationship has an uncertain, spacey quality to it that can be confusing for you both. Although you want your relationship and your world to be structured in a rational and traditional way, you may find that your partner does not cooperate. There is a spiritual, otherworldly energy between you that fogs your mind and creates a sense of confusion that can cause a lot of fear, uncertainty, and self doubt for you both. When you look at your relationship, and your world, you see the mundane everyday world that you live in and you expect your relationship to meet certain practical standards. But underneath that you are also seeing an otherworldly reality shining through your mundane relationship, and this creates a sense of double vision. The two realities, the mundane and the spiritual, tell you different things about your life. This creates uncertainty and confusion for you and brings up a lot of fears.

No matter what you do to try to stabilize your world, this underlying spacey spiritual energy will continue to destabilize and confuse you until you grow to understand what is happening. From that understanding you can learn to restructure your life and flow with the spiritual growth that is created by your union. This will require huge amounts of flexibility because your two world views are very different from each other. Reason and rational thought will not work for you most of the time. You will be asked to listen more to your intuition, or your subtle spiritual mind, for guidance and direction. It is your intuition that will be able to make sense of the dreamy quality of your life, not your rational mind. You will find that understanding your dreams and learning from the messages that they give you will also be of great help to you. Dreams are messages from the subconscious, otherworldly realm that contain many deep truths for you. Your relationship is a union concerned with spiritual growth and anything that you do together spiritually will greatly aid you in your individual evolution and in stabilizing your relationship. By growing into the spiritual quality of this energy and learning to structure these new insights into your life, you can learn to make sense of what is happening and then share a sense of peace and happiness.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Venus square Uranus (Strength: 3.32)

You admire and excite each other. Enjoy your relationship while it lasts - it has unpredictable elements that could cause it to end quite suddenly. But that is part of the fascination. You were drawn together by an irresistible and overpowering desire, like iron to a magnet. Your relationship has a lot of freedom and unconventional qualities to it. Your expectations for a comfortable and stable relationship may have just flown right out the window. Perhaps there are extramarital affairs. Usually it is the delicious quality of forbidden fruit that keeps you interested. You may have traditional desires for settling down, but if that prospect ever became reality your interest would suddenly die.

This combination stirs up your desire nature in an unstable way. Your desires become restless, as though you are always looking for something, and that something is usually something else. If one of you decides to hang onto some quality that you see in your partner and to build some type of feelings of permanence around it, your partner will quickly feel trapped and revolt. Then your relationship would come to a sudden end.

There is a powerful lesson here that you will need to understand if you want to stay together. As a couple, you each seek individual freedom through your union. There is a sense of spiritual enlightenment in this contact that you will have to embrace, and each of your paths will be very unique and individual as a result. In order for this union to last, you will have to give each other almost total freedom of expression. There can be absolutely no rules or limitations between you, including expectations of any kind. Friends and acquaintances will become more important to each of you.

No matter how long you are together, you can learn much and grow immensely. Live in a spiritual manner, one moment at a time. Experience deeply what you have in front of you. Have no expectations and allow spirit to enter your life in any way that it comes. Allow yourself as well as your partner total freedom to follow your own path.

Moon trine Venus (Strength: 2.95)

Your relationship is blessed in that you share a very loving and happy bond. You are compatible on an emotional level, and you thoroughly enjoy being with each other. Even as lovers you will still be the best of friends, and this friendly feeling will extend to those around you. As a couple you will be very well liked, and because of this you will attract much support for activities that you undertake together. There is an esoteric law of attraction that applies very nicely to your relationship. It states that you will attract to yourself whatever you focus on and give your emotional attention to. In your case your focus is quite naturally on love and beauty, and also affluence as a means of creating more beauty in your lives. The happiness that you feel for each other, in turn, creates beauty and harmony in your life.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

If you are in a business partnership, then you will be very successful in areas that support and enhance your love of art and beauty. You will do well in the arts, dance, theater, fashion, design, or any other area where you will be able to use your artistic sensibilities. You will spend time and effort creating a beautiful and pleasing home, or office, as an expression of your relationship or business partnership. You will enjoy socializing, being out on the town and enjoying what life has to offer.

This aspect is good and supportive, but it will be best for the relationship's long-term health and your personal growth as individuals if the Moon also has some inharmonious aspects, as without conflict and challenge we become bored.

Venus square Pluto (Strength: 2.68)

Although your relationship is an extremely loving one, it can also be difficult. You care for each other deeply and share with your partner a bond that is potentially spiritual and transformative. Your love is intense and so meaningful to you on a deep level that you each want to merge completely with the other. This aspect manifests in its highest, purest form when the two of you are of equal power. If there are differences of age, experience, and power, the fascination between you could entice the less experienced one of you to slip into the other's power. This can lead to total dominance in your relationship. Your emotional connection can then become an intense love-hate relationship that can be quite destructive. Perhaps one of you uses love or sex to manipulate the other, which can also be destructive. If you have feelings of guilt about the relationship, you could over-indulge in escapist, self-destructive behavior. But these are lower manifestations of an aspect that tests your soul for purity, and you may instead pass with flying colors.

You see sex as a very powerful way to express your love. The intensity of the sexual desire between you and the power of your orgasms become pathways for transformation and growth. There is difficulty with this. Your sexual and emotional desires have an urgent tinge to them that make you come off as greedy. It can seem that your desires and appetites are insatiable. You cannot seem to get enough of each other fast enough. You see in each other the promise of regenerative power, although it does not always come easily. You are not yet comfortable with having this depth of love and desire in your life, so you go after what you want with too much force. Together you are learning what emotional power is and how to approach it. You will need to slow down and enjoy the experiences and pleasures that you have in front of you before thinking about conquering your next desire. Stop trying to manipulate and dominate everything in your world and just accept what comes to you. You are trying to merge emotionally with each other, and power plays and dominance only create blocks to that basic desire to become one. Enjoy deeply what you have, and you will find what you are looking for.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Moon trine Mercury (Strength: 2.34)

Communicating both rationally and emotionally comes easily for you. This energy is a powerful addition to a friendship, a close-knit partnership, or a healthy love relationship. You will enjoy sharing ideas as well as feelings, and this will help you grow emotionally and intellectually. Your basic philosophies of life are similar, and this adds to the emotional compatibility between you. If there is a problem here, it is that individuals need to have some conflict, some tension, as you each try to use the relationship to get your needs met and become emotionally whole.

The ability to communicate from the heart as well as from the head can help build a strong bond between you. You should avoid any tendency to limit your partner's expression or fall into stereotypical roles. For example, emotional expression is not only a female role, just as logical thought is not solely the role of the male. The bond that you share allows you to experience life through your partner's perspective as well as your own. This will deepen your understanding of each other's approach to life and love.

Mercury square Pluto (Strength: 2.08)

With this aspect there could be a largely fruitless attempt to achieve a genuine meeting of the minds. You may agree on the day-to-day rules for running your life together, but each of you has a private place of opinions and fixed ideas that you reserve inviolate and which the other cannot affect. You have conflicting ideas about life and neither of you is willing to accept any ideas that are not in alignment with your own. Either of you could be more experienced and mature, more compassionate, more honest, more sensitive, more trusting, more loving - but your message cannot get through the blocks in your partner that this aspect creates.

There may be a fear that if you change your ideas, or if you accept those of your partner, that somehow you will die. You fear that if you are wrong this will dramatically affect your concept of yourself. But this is exactly the challenge that your relationship brings. You will need to learn acceptance of other's ideas, and especially those of your partner. Your perspectives will change through your connection, and if you embrace that process and learn to listen to each other's ideas then you will achieve tremendous growth and transformation for both of you. Your thought processes will deepen and you will begin to understand more completely what your relationship is about. You will then see life in a whole new way.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

You could find yourself trying to project your domineering mental and intellectual powers out into the world around you, trying to influence and even manipulate others' thinking. This can cause a backlash as other people will usually feel the manipulative energy rather than listen to the nature of your ideas. Remember that mental concepts and intellect are only one aspect of relating. It can be very useful to let go of your deep fascination with your intellect and allow time and energy for relating on more loving levels.

Jupiter opposite Saturn (Strength: 1.99)

The promise of worldly success and prosperity brings you together. There is nothing to say that you cannot pull it off, but it is less likely when this aspect is close and strong. Worldly pessimistic Saturn applies the reality principle to hard-working expansive Jupiter. Do you suffer from mood swings? On one extreme, you could feel a deep, debilitating pessimism and the feeling that life is a struggle and you have to watch out lest you get kicked in the face. At other times you feel euphoric optimism and the feeling that life is beautiful and good fortune is yours for the asking. This underscores the nature of your predicament. Life actually contains both, and you are now learning how to balance these energies within yourselves and in your partnership. This could describe your union as a whole, or one of you may be the perennial optimist, while the other partner takes on the role of the perpetual pessimist.

You have two very different opposing energies at war in your relationship, and it is up to you to find equilibrium between them. Your mood swings are indicative of this learning process. You are being pushed back and forth between these two poles, learning a little at each swing, until you can somehow maintain a dynamic balance between them. One way to do this is to intentionally alternate sides often. Recognize that you are engaged in a learning process. Talk about what is happening within you and between you. You will learn much as you do this. Meditation or other spiritual practices can be a great aid for you. Such practices would allow you to gain a greater understanding of the process that you are experiencing.

Life contains both ups and downs. You can live life filled with enthusiasm and enjoyment by taking risks and having fun. Or you can live life in a structured and deliberate manner, knowing exactly what is expected of you and watching for any potential booby traps along the way. Your relationship is about finding that balance between maintaining your joy of life and proceeding in a deliberate and structured way. As you do this, you could find growth and prosperity along the way.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & EvaMercury in a quintile aspect to Mars (Strength: 1.78)

Mentally and verbally you are a dynamic duo. Your communication is both energetic and powerful. You state your ideas with force and do not hold anything back. This acts to clear the air between you and keep it clear so that there is little chance of a buildup of unexpressed points of view or emotional hurts. In your case, there is little danger of hurt feelings because neither of you is really bothered by the forcefulness of your interaction. Your relationship is mentally stimulating and you each appreciate the direct, honest, and open communication that you share. You are very capable of stating your thoughts, ideas, and points of view in any situation, whether that is personal or professional. As a couple, your interaction with others reflects this same forcefulness and sense of purpose.

As a team you are naturals when it comes to arguments or debates. You have an innate ability to state your case in ways that appeal to the intellect of your listeners. You know just how to stimulate their mental processes. This can be very productive professionally in the fields of communication, promotion and sales, or any area that requires intense mental activity. There can be a fair amount of genius in your relationship because ideas come easily to you and you have the ability and the energy to bring them into public awareness. You stimulate each other intellectually and are willing to take on challenging projects and blaze new trails together.

Sun square Saturn (Strength: 1.70)

Limitation, difficulty, and frustration plague your relationship. The square aspect is comprised of 90-degree angles, and this image describes the energies that you experience. It seems as if you experience more than your share of setbacks, illnesses, and heavy responsibilities. Some of your problems are self-created through your own self-protective behavior or fortress mentality. Dare to trust allies, partners, and each other. Trust that there is enough for everyone. Each of you will appear critical and demanding to the other. You will attack and challenge each other's egos and sense of self-esteem. You may also demand too much of yourself or criticize yourself for an apparent inability to get anything accomplished.

Financial burdens or a debilitating lack of resources can weigh heavily on you. You may experience other types of limitation such as physical handicaps that get in the way of your need to accomplish your goals. Regardless of the particular problems, they will frustrate and limit you, so that you may feel like you are constantly being defeated.

You are in a relationship where learning and inner growth are your highest goals. Your relationship promises tremendous growth if you can stick it out. Your egos and creative wills are constantly battling each other over leadership of this relationship. As a result, obstacles are always present and nothing ever gets done. You need to pull your ego back and begin to see your relationship as a new entity that encompasses both of you, and that promises a life that is potentially greater than your individual lives. Rather than making demands on each other or criticizing each other, approach your relationship as personal inner work. Your purpose in your relationship is to become a team. Spiritual disciplines of some sort, or other comparable work that teaches you how to take responsibility for your own ego and control issues, can help you to heal them within yourselves. By doing your own individual work you will greatly add to the potential of your relationship. The powerful drive to accomplish can be turned inwards, so that each of you focus on working to improve yourselves. This can turn your relationship into one of great purpose and provide an opportunity for mutual accomplishment and growth.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & Eva

Venus in a quintile aspect to Mars (Strength: 1.62)

The main problem with this aspect is that it is too easy - you don't feel yourself learning anything. You get along fine - there is just little challenge in the boy-girl department. Challenging aspects to composite Sun, Venus, or Mars will help you to stay interested in this relationship.

Relationships in general are a delicate and often volatile balance between the needs of each individual and those of the union. You can create an excellent balance between your individual needs and expression and your feelings concerning your relationship. Your relationship allows you to maintain your sense of individuality while you both support each other and grow within the sanctity of your commitment to each other. You interact naturally and are very compatible sexually. The love and emotional connection between you binds you from the heart and carries you through the rigors of everyday life.

This connection is not a compulsively passionate one. Although there is a great deal of physical attraction between you, there is no starving sense of neediness that usually characterizes mad passion. Instead your passionate nature, while it is there, is balanced and harmonious. You enjoy a quiet love and an easy and very pleasurable sexual interaction that has more to do with sensuality and emotional connection than with wild abandon. You will be friends as well as lovers, and these feelings will be harmoniously blended in your life.

If yours is a professional relationship, you will work harmoniously together as a balanced team. Your energies will complement and balance each other, and the unified energy between you will keep your friendship going for a long time. In all types of relationships, you will stand out as examples of harmony and cooperation and others will be attracted to you as a result.

Composite Couples Report for Adolf & EvaSun trine Moon (Strength: 0.33)

In your relationship, you have found a truly blessed connection that in many ways is truly sacred and archetypal. The creative light principle of your Sun is in a most harmonious and compatible relationship with your emotional natures, as expressed in the composite Moon. There will be a feeling of completeness in your relationship that is deeply comforting, as though you are a single whole rather than two separate parts. Yin and yang, masculine and feminine are embraced in a slow and loving dance within each of you, creating a relationship free from tension or conflict.

Your relationship is very egalitarian, and you easily accept each other without conditions. You allow each other a certain amount of freedom of expression without jealousy or possessiveness. Because of your deep connection, communication between you is quite good. This will also affect your sexual life if yours is an intimate connection. The natural ease of the Sun and Moon interaction in this aspect indicates that there is also strong sexual compatibility between you. Sexual interaction between you will be easy and natural, so that there will be few if any sexual problems or differences present in the bedroom. Sex will be deeply satisfying and emotionally bonding. You move to the rhythm of each other's hearts.

The fact is that few couples are found with this composite aspect, indicating that humans look for more stimulation or challenge than this aspect provides in a relationship.

Uranus opposite Pluto (Strength: 0.00)

You are futurists. You wish to sweep away the dead wood of the past - to replace it with stark, clean simplicity. You see a brave, new world that derives its power from science and technology. You would replace sentimentality with efficiency. You would streamline life, reducing it to its bare essentials. This is how you declare your strength and courage as well as your freedom.